- On about 18 April 1955, the headquarters of the Soviet Oil Administration Austria (SMV) gave a priority order to the Schwechat refinery to produce 700 tons of a jet fuel component. The order was filled immediately and the product was sent to the Korneuburg refinery to be mixed into an estimated 1100 tons of jet fuel.
- 2. The fuel component produced by the Schwechat refinery had exactly the same specifications as the fuel produced there in July 1954. The most important additional specification was a turpidity point (Truebungspunkt) of 54.
